COMPLAINT

AND NOW, comes the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Office of Attorney General, by Attorney General David W. Sunday, Jr. ("Commonwealth" and/or "Plaintiff"), which brings this action on behalf of the Commonwealth pursuant to the provisions of the Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law, 73 P.S. §§ 201-1, et seq. ("Consumer Protection Law"), to restrain by permanent injunction unfair methods of competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices, in the conduct of any trade or commerce, declared unlawful by the Consumer Protection Law and the Pennsylvania Home Improvement Consumer Protection Act, 73 P.S. §§ 517.1, et seq. ("HICPA").

The Commonwealth believes that the public interest is served by seeking a permanent injunction from this Honorable Court to restrain the unfair methods, acts and practices of the Defendants. The Commonwealth believes that citizens of the Commonwealth are suffering and will continue to suffer harm unless the acts and practices complained of herein are permanently enjoined.

The Commonwealth also seeks restitution pursuant to Section 201-4.1 of the Consumer Protection Law to all consumers who have suffered losses as a result of the Defendants' conduct. Additionally, the Commonwealth seeks appropriate civil penalties pursuant to Section 201-8(b) of the Consumer Protection Law for all willful violations of said Law, and to recover its costs for enforcement of the Consumer Protection Law.

In support thereof, the Commonwealth respectfully represents the following:

JURISDICTION

1. This Court has original jurisdiction over this action pursuant to Section 931 of the Judicial Code, 42 Pa. C.S.A. § 931(a).

VENUE

Honan Street, Chester, PA 19013, and doing business from a location at 611 O'Hara Court, Williamstown, New Jersey 08094. Upon information and belief, JC Construction previously operated from a location at 114 Ridge Avenue, Darby, Pennsylvania 19023.

5. Defendant Julian Caldwell ("Caldwell" or "Defendant" or collectively as one of the "Defendants") is an adult individual who, upon information and belief, resides at 611 O'Hara Court, Williamstown, New Jersey 08094. Upon information and belief, Defendant Caldwell previously resided and conducted business from 114 Ridge Avenue, Darby, Pennsylvania 19023. Defendant Caldwell is the Managing Member of JC Construction.

BACKGROUND

6. At all times relevant and material hereto, Defendants engaged in trade and commerce within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania under the names "JC Home & Construction Management, LLC," "JC Home Repair," and "JC Construction" by advertising, marketing, offering, selling, and/or performing home improvement services, as defined in Section 517.2 of HICPA.

7. At all times relevant and material hereto, Defendant Caldwell engaged in, approved, endorsed, directed, ratified, controlled, and/or otherwise participated in the conduct and practices alleged herein.

FACTS

8. Defendant Caldwell operated a home improvement business under the name "JC Home Repair" for approximately two years, from 2018 to 2020.

9. Defendant Caldwell did not register this business with the Pennsylvania Department of State, Corporations Bureau at its inception, nor did he register the business with the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General, Bureau of Consumer Protection ("Bureau") prior to holding himself out as a home improvement contractor and performing home improvement work.

10. Defendant Caldwell registered JC Home & Construction LLC as a business entity with the Pennsylvania Department of State, Corporations Bureau on July 17, 2020. The business entity number associated with Defendant's operation is 7091614.

11. For approximately two years, from July 2020 through June 2022, Defendants also failed to register JC Home & Construction LLC as a home improvement contractor with the Bureau prior to holding themselves out as home improvement contractors and performing home improvement work.

12. On June 13, 2022, Defendants registered JC Construction with the Bureau and was assigned registration number PA174445.

13. On August 16, 2023, that registration was deactivated due to Defendants' failure to correct discrepancies with their business address and failure to provide updated insurance information.

14. On April 4, 2024, Defendants re-registered JC Construction with the Bureau and was assigned registration number PA191207.

15. On December 29, 2024, that registration was deactivated because Defendants failed to provide the Bureau with a valid certificate of insurance and failed to provide complete and accurate information about past civil judgments against them.

16. On or about June 14, 2025, Defendants were informed by the Commonwealth that they were prohibited from holding themselves out as contractors or performing home improvement work unless and until they registered with the Bureau. On that same day, Defendants registered JC Construction with the Bureau again and were assigned registration number PA202551. Defendants' current registration is scheduled to expire on June 14, 2027.

17. In numerous instances during the relevant time period, Defendants held themselves out as home improvement contractors, entered into home improvement contracts with consumers, and performed home improvement work despite not being registered with the Bureau, in violation of Section 517.3(a) of HICPA. 73 P.S. § 517.3(a).

18. In numerous instances, Defendants began home improvement projects but, without justification, failed to complete the work stated in the contract and/or completed the work in a shoddy, unworkmanlike manner.

19. In numerous instances, when Defendants failed to complete home improvement work as promised, consumers reached out directly to Defendant Caldwell with questions, complaints, and refund requests.

20. In numerous instances, Defendants failed to adequately resolve consumers' complaints regarding shoddy and/or incomplete work and failed to provide refunds.

21. In numerous instances, Defendants' home improvement contracts failed to include all required notices, including, but not limited to, the notice informing the consumer of his or her right to rescind the contract, as required by Section 201-7(b)(1) of the Consumer Protection Law.

22. In numerous instances, Defendants failed to utilize home improvement contracts which complied with the requirements of Section 517.7(a) of HICPA. A true and correct, redacted exemplar copy of Defendants' contract is attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit A. In certain instances, the Defendants presented consumers with only electronic estimates which served as the parties' contract for the home improvement projects to be performed. A true and correct, redacted exemplar copy of Defendants' electronic estimate is attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit B.

23. In numerous instances, Defendants executed home improvement contracts that did not include Defendants' home improvement registration number as required by Section 517.7(a)(1) of HICPA.

24. In numerous instances, Defendants executed contracts that did not include the approximate start and completion date as required by Section 517.7(a)(6) of HICPA.

25. In numerous instances, Defendants executed contracts that did not include the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all subcontractors on the project as required by Section 517.7(a)(10) of HICPA.

26. In numerous instances, Defendants executed contracts that did not include the Bureau's toll-free phone number as required by Section 517.7(a)(12) of HICPA.

27. In numerous instances, Defendants executed contracts which did not include a notice of the consumer's right to rescission as required by Section 517.7(a)(13) of HICPA.

28. At various points during the relevant time period, Defendants failed to maintain liability insurance covering personal injury and insurance covering property damage caused by a home improvement contractor as required by Section 517.7(a)(11) of HICPA.

29. In numerous instances, Defendants' contracts failed to identify the current amount of insurance coverage maintained at the time of signing the contract as required by Section 517.7(a)(11) of HICPA.

30. The Bureau has received numerous consumer complaints against the Defendants over several years. The following are examples of the Defendants' alleged conduct in complaints submitted by consumers to the Bureau:

A. In or around 2019, a Montgomery County consumer entered into agreements with Defendants for three home improvement projects, including but not limited to demolition, roof installation, framing, plumbing, electrical work, heating system installation, cooling system installation, insulation installation, window installation, paint, trim and baseboard installation, flooring, landscaping, siding installation, and cement laying at three different properties. The consumer paid Defendants the full contract price for work on the first two properties. Defendants completed a significant amount of work on the first and second properties but did not complete the work and eventually abandoned both projects, forcing the consumer to pay another contractor $10,000 for the first property and $10,000 for the second property to bring the home improvement projects to completion. The full price of the work to be completed by Defendants on the third property was $90,900. Defendants signed a contract for the project, accepted a payment of $20,000 for a specific subset of work in the contract, and started renovations briefly before halting work for two months. Defendants ultimately abandoned the project at the third property as well. The consumer had to contract with another company to complete work at the third property and estimates a loss of $16,000 for payments made to Defendants. The consumer seeks a total refund of $36,000 for work Defendants failed to complete as promised on all three properties.

B. On or about September 13, 2020, a Philadelphia County consumer entered into an agreement with Defendants for the total renovation of a bathroom in the consumer's home. Defendants presented the consumer with an electronic estimate serving as the parties' contract, whereby Defendants agreed to "gut the bathroom to the studs," demolish the tub, install a standing shower, install new plumbing, retile the floors, install new lighting, install an exhaust fan, install sheet rock, sand and paint the room, install a vanity, install a toilet, install new baseboards, and install new door trim. The full price of the work to be completed by Defendants was $8,575.00. Defendants' work deviated significantly from what the consumer requested, and Defendants never completed the work described in the parties' contract. Defendants' faulty work in the bathroom caused a leak in the home which ultimately led to the ceiling collapsing in another room, which Defendants failed to adequately repair. The consumer seeks a refund of all money paid for the project.

C. On or about August 7, 2023, a Montgomery County consumer entered into an agreement with Defendants for substantial renovations to the consumer's home. The electronic estimate serving as the parties' contract called for Defendants to complete a full kitchen demolition and install sheet rock, cabinets, backsplash, a light fixture, a faucet, granite, backsplash, new appliances, and paint the kitchen. The contract also included new floor installation, exterior door installation, interior wall demolition, plumbing repairs, window replacements, electrical improvements, tub replacement, sink replacement, toilet replacement, new tile, and paint in other rooms of the home. The full price of the work to be completed by Defendants was more than $50,000. Defendants did not complete the project and the portion that was completed was done in a shoddy manner. Specifically, Defendants damaged the ceiling by removing a weight bearing wall, installed uneven flooring, completed electrical work utilizing the incorrect voltage and left loose wires exposed, and ordered the incorrect windows for the project. To rectify these issues the consumer was forced to hire a new contractor to complete the work. The consumer seeks a refund for all payments made to Defendants for the project.

D. In early 2023, a New Jersey resident entered into an agreement with Defendants for the installation of a new roof, windows, sheet rock, light fixtures, plus painting and other improvements. Defendants presented the consumer with an electronic estimate serving as the parties' contract and represented that the work would be done within thirty (30) days. The full price of the work to be completed by Defendants was $35,462.65. Defendants represented that Defendants had redone the roof but inspection by another contractor revealed that the roof had not been redone nor had it been patched up. Defendants also damaged countertops and cabinets in the consumer's home. Defendants disposed of garbage and debris inappropriately by throwing bags out of windows. The consumer paid Defendants $25,000 but believes only $15,000 worth of work was completed. The consumer had to pay another contractor to remove debris from the property to avoid fines.

E. On or about May 15, 2024, a Delaware County consumer aged sixty (60) or older entered into an agreement with Defendants on a home improvement project, to elevate the floors in a residential property. Defendants presented the consumer with an electronic estimate serving as the parties' contract and the consumer paid Defendants $8,771.36. Defendants arrived at the property with subcontractors and after some time told the consumer that the job was complete. The consumer reports that Defendants did not provide a refund, did not complete the job, and the floor of the property is sinking.

F. On or about September 14, 2023, a Philadelphia County consumer aged sixty (60) or older entered into an agreement with Defendants for a complete basement renovation. Defendants agreed to demolish the existing basement and redo the framing, electrical wiring and outlets, plumbing, floors, doors and trim. Defendants also agreed to install a new garage door. The total contract price for the project was $41,570. Defendants presented the consumer with an electronic estimate serving as the parties' contract and the consumer paid Defendants $10,200 in September 2023, $10,000 in early October 2023, and an additional $10,820 in late October 2023. Defendants never completed the project and the portions that were completed were done in a shoddy, unworkmanlike manner. On one occasion, a vendor refused to leave the consumer's home because the vendor had not received a payment they were promised by Defendant Caldwell. The consumer paid $2,000 to satisfy the vendor's demand and Defendant Caldwell assured the consumer that he would reimburse her. The consumer filed a private civil action against Defendants in the Philadelphia Court of Common Pleas. The consumer was awarded a default judgment for $20,900, which Defendants never paid. The case identification number for this case is 240602327.

31. The Commonwealth believes and therefore avers that there may be additional consumers who have not submitted complaints to the Bureau and who have also been harmed due to the methods, acts, and practices of the Defendants, which include, but are not limited to, those as alleged herein.

32. The Commonwealth believes that the public interest is served by seeking before this Honorable Court a permanent injunction to restrain the unfair methods, acts, and practices of the Defendants, as complained of herein and as hereinafter set forth. Further, the Commonwealth requests restitution, civil penalties, costs, and other appropriate equitable relief as redress for violations of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA.

COUNT I – VIOLATIONS OF THE CONSUMER PROTECTION LAW AND HICPA AS TO DEFENDANTS JC CONSTRUCTION AND CALDWELL

DEFENDANTS FAILED TO COMPLETE PROJECTS AND/OR FAILED TO COMPLETE PROJECTS IN A PROFESSIONAL, WORKMANLIKE MANNER

33. The averments and allegations of the preceding paragraphs are incorporated as though the same were fully set forth herein.

34. Section 517.9(5) of HICPA prohibits abandoning or failing to perform, without justification, any home improvement contract or project engaged in or undertaken by a contractor. 73 P.S. § 517.9(5).

35. Defendants entered into contracts with Pennsylvania consumers for various general contracting and home improvement services.

36. Defendants received substantial payments from consumers for goods and services associated with home improvement and renovation work to be performed on the consumers' homes and then, in certain instances, failed to perform and abandoned, without justification, the contracted-for work. Additionally, Defendants failed to respond to consumers' complaints and failed to correct defects in their work.

37. For instance, the consumer whose narrative is described in paragraph 30.F., herein above, contracted with Defendants to complete a host of renovations including a complete basement renovation, electrical wiring, plumbing, floors, and new garage door installation. Defendants accepted more than $30,000 from the consumer but completed only a portion of the work. Defendants never completed the project, and the consumer was forced to pay another contractor to complete the project and correct Defendants' errors. Though the consumer was awarded a default judgment for $20,900, to date, Defendants have never compensated the consumer for their loss.

38. In certain instances where Defendants completed at least a portion of the contracted-for home improvement work, Defendants failed to perform the services in a workmanlike manner and/or failed to perform work to the quality or standard promised.

39. For instance, the consumer whose narrative is described in paragraph 30.B., herein above, contracted with Defendants for a bathroom demolition and full renovation. Defendants completed the work in a shoddy manner, causing leaks and the collapse of a ceiling in the consumer's home. Defendants failed to repair the shoddy work and failed to refund the consumer.

40. Defendants' failure to complete the contracted-for home improvement projects and failure to correct defects resulting from their defective and unsatisfactory work violated Section 517.9(5) of HICPA.

41. Section 517.10 of HICPA states that a violation of any of the provisions of HICPA shall be deemed a violation of the Consumer Protection Law. 73 P.S. § 517.10.

42. The aforesaid methods, acts or practices constitute unfair methods of competition and unfair acts or practices in the conduct of trade or commerce prohibited by Section 201-3 of the Consumer Protection Law, as defined by Section 201-2(4) of said Law, including, but not limited to, the following:

a. Section 201-2(4)(v), which prohibits representing that goods or services have sponsorship, approval, characteristics, ingredients, uses, benefits or quantities that they do not have or that a person has a sponsorship, approval, status, affiliation or connection that he does not have; and

b. Section 201-2(4)(xxi), which prohibits engaging in any other fraudulent or deceptive conduct which creates a likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding.

73 P.S. §§ 201-3 and 201-2(4)(v) and (xxi).

43. The Commonwealth alleges that all of the practices described above were performed willfully.

44. The Commonwealth believes that the public interest is served by seeking before this Court a permanent injunction to restrain the methods, acts and practices described herein, as well as seeking restitution for consumers and civil penalties for violations of the law. The Commonwealth believes that citizens of the Commonwealth are suffering and will continue to suffer harm unless the acts and practices complained of herein are permanently enjoined.

WHEREFORE, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully requests that this Honorable Court issue an Order:

A. Declaring Defendants' conduct as described herein above to be in violation of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA;

B. Permanently enjoining Defendants and all other persons acting on their behalf, directly or indirectly, from violating the Consumer Protection Law and/or HICPA, and any amendments thereto;

C. Ordering Defendants to be permanently enjoined from (i) engaging in trade and commerce within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania involving the sale or provision of "Home improvement" services as that term is defined in Section 517.2 of HICPA, including but not limited to, as an owner, shareholder, manager or employee of any business selling or providing such services, (ii) entering into any "home improvement contract" as that term is defined in Section 517.2 of HICPA, and (iii) registering in any capacity, or having another register on their behalf, as a home improvement contractor with the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General, Bureau of Consumer Protection, pursuant to Section 517.3(a) of HICPA;

D. Authorizing the Commonwealth to direct its Bureau of Consumer Protection to deactivate and/or revoke any active HICPA registration affiliated with any of the Defendants;

E. Directing Defendants to make full restitution, pursuant to Section 201-4.1 of the Consumer Protection Law, to all consumers who have suffered losses as a result of the acts and practices alleged in this complaint and any other acts or practices which violate the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA;

F. Directing Defendants to pay to the Commonwealth civil penalties of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) for each instance of a past or present violation of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA and Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) for each instance of a past or present violation of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA involving consumers age sixty (60) or older as victims;

G. Requiring Defendants to pay the Commonwealth's costs of its investigation and litigation of this matter, pursuant to Section 1602-U of the Act of April 9, 1929 (P.L. 343), 72 P.S. § 1602-U; and

H. Granting such other general, equitable and/or further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

COUNT II – VIOLATIONS OF THE CONSUMER PROTECTION LAW AND HICPA AS TO DEFENDANTS JC CONSTRUCTION AND CALDWELL

DEFENDANTS PERFORMED HOME IMPROVEMENTS WITHOUT A REQUIRED HOME IMPROVEMENT CONTRACTOR REGISTRATION

45. The averments and allegations of the preceding paragraphs are incorporated as though the same were fully set forth herein.

46. Under Section 517.2 of HICPA, a home improvement includes repairs, replacements, removals, renovations or improvements done in connection with land or a portion of land adjacent to a private residence for which the total cash price of all work agreed upon between the contractor and the owner is more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00). 73 P.S. § 517.2.

47. A contractor is defined in Section 517.2 of HICPA as "[a]ny person who owns and operates a home improvement business or who undertakes, offers to undertake or agrees to perform any home improvement." 73 P.S. § 517.2.

48. Defendant JC Construction is a contractor as defined by Section 517.2 of HICPA.

49. Defendant Caldwell is a contractor as defined by Section 517.2 of HICPA.

50. Under Section 517.3 of HICPA, "[n]o person shall hold himself out as a contractor, nor shall a person perform any home improvement without first registering with the bureau." 73 P.S. § 517.3.

51. Furthermore, Section 517.9(1) of HICPA lists "prohibited acts" and states "[n]o person shall fail to register as required by this act." 73 P.S. § 517.9(1).

52. Defendants began operating a home improvement business and holding themselves out as contractors in 2018. Defendants, however, failed to maintain HICPA registration with the Bureau until June 13, 2022, when Defendants registered with the Bureau for the first time.

53. Defendants' HICPA registration was deactivated on August 16, 2023. Defendants did not immediately apply to reinstate their registration. For the period between August 2023 until about April 4, 2024, Defendants' HICPA registration was expired, deactivated, or otherwise inactive.

54. Defendants registered with the Bureau again on April 4, 2024, and maintained active registration through December 29, 2024, when that registration was deactivated. Defendants' HICPA registration was expired, deactivated, or otherwise inactive from December 29, 2024 through June 14, 2025.

55. In numerous instances, despite not having a valid registration as required by HICPA, Defendants—using the names "JC Home Repair," "JC Construction," and/or "JC Home & Construction Management, LLC"—engaged in home improvement work in Pennsylvania and entered into home improvement contracts with Pennsylvania consumers.

56. For instance, on or about July 7, 2019, Defendants entered into a contract for home improvement work with a Pennsylvania resident totaling $90,900 and accepted advance payments totaling $20,000. The consumer's narrative is described in paragraph 30.A., herein above.

57. In another instance, on or about September 13, 2020, Defendants entered into a home improvement contract with a Pennsylvania resident totaling $8,575.00. The consumer's narrative is described in paragraph 30.B., herein above.

58. Defendants' conduct in holding themselves out as home improvement contractors and performing home improvement work without possessing the required home improvement contractor registration with the Bureau violated Sections 517.3 and 517.9(1) of HICPA.

59. A violation of HICPA is deemed to be a violation of the Consumer Protection Law. 73 P.S. § 517.10.

60. The aforesaid methods, acts, or practices constitute unfair methods of competition and unfair acts or practices in the conduct of trade or commerce prohibited by Section 201-3 of the Consumer Protection Law, as defined by Section 201-2(4) of said Law, including, but not limited to, the following:

a. Section 201-2(4)(ii), which prohibits causing likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding as to the source, sponsorship, approval or certification of goods or services;

b. Section 201-2(4)(iii), which prohibits causing a likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding as to affiliation, connection or association with, or certification by, another;

c. Section 201-2(4)(v), which prohibits representing that goods or services have sponsorship, approval, characteristics, ingredients, uses, benefits or quantities that they do not have or that a person has a sponsorship, approval, status, affiliation or connection that he does not have; and

d. Section 201-2(4)(xxi), which prohibits engaging in any other fraudulent or deceptive conduct which creates a likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding.

73 P.S. §§ 201-3, and 201-2(4)(ii), (iii), (v), and (xxi).

61. The Commonwealth alleges that all of the practices described above were performed willfully.

62. The Commonwealth believes that the public interest is served by seeking before this Court a permanent injunction to restrain the methods, acts and practices described herein, as well as seeking restitution for consumers and civil penalties for violation of the law. The Commonwealth believes that citizens of the Commonwealth are suffering and will continue to suffer harm unless the acts and practices complained of herein are permanently enjoined.

WHEREFORE, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully requests that this Honorable Court issue an Order:

A. Declaring the conduct of Defendants as described herein above to be in violation of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA;

B. Permanently enjoining Defendants and all other persons acting on their behalf, directly or indirectly, from violating the Consumer Protection Law and/or HICPA and any amendments thereto.

C. Ordering Defendants to be permanently enjoined from (i) engaging in trade and commerce within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania involving the sale or provision of "Home improvement" services as that term is defined in Section 517.2 of HICPA, including but not limited to, as an owner, shareholder, manager or employee of any business selling or providing such services, (ii) entering into any "home improvement contract" as that term is defined in Section 517.2 of HICPA, and (iii) registering in any capacity, or having another register on their behalf, as a home improvement contractor with the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General, Bureau of Consumer Protection, pursuant to Section 517.3(a) of HICPA;

D. Authorizing the Commonwealth to direct its Bureau of Consumer Protection to deactivate and/or revoke any active HICPA registration affiliated with any of the Defendants;

E. Directing Defendants to make full restitution, pursuant to Section 201-4.1 of the Consumer Protection Law, to all consumers who have suffered losses as a result of the acts and practices alleged in this complaint and any other acts or practices which violate the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA;

F. 63. The averments and allegations of the preceding paragraphs are incorporated as though the same were fully set forth herein.

64. Under Section 201-7 of the Consumer Protection Law, "[w]here goods or services having a sale price of Twenty-Five and 00/100 Dollars ($25.00) or more are sold or contracted to be sold to a buyer, as a result of, or in connection with, a contact with or call on the buyer or resident at his residence… the buyer shall be provided with…":

a. the home improvement contractor registration number of the performing contractor, as required by Section 517.7(a)(1) of HICPA;

b. the entire agreement between the owner and the contractor, including attached copies of all required notices, to include the notice of cancellation, as required by Section 517.7(a)(3) of HICPA;

73 P.S. §§ 517.7(a)(1), (3), (6), (10), (11), (12), and (13), and § 517.7(b).

66. In certain instances, Defendants entered into a contract having a sale price of Twenty-Five and 00/100 Dollars ($25.00) or more as a result of contact with a consumer in his home, for a contract to perform home improvement services. See Exhibit A.

67. In certain instances, Defendants' contract failed to include all required notices, including, but not limited to, the notice informing the consumer of his or her right to rescind the contract, as required by HICPA and Section 201-7(b)(1) of the Consumer Protection Law. See id.

68. In certain instances, Defendants' contract failed to include all required notices, including, but not limited to, the Notice of Cancellation form, as required by Section 201-7(b)(2) of the Consumer Protection Law. See id.

73. In certain instances, Defendants' contract failed to include the toll-free telephone number for the Bureau of Consumer Protection. See id.

74. Defendants' failure to utilize contracts which included all of the aforementioned required provisions violated Section 517.7 of HICPA.

75. A violation of HICPA is deemed to be a violation of the Consumer Protection Law. 73 P.S. § 517.10.

76. The aforesaid acts and practices constitute unfair and deceptive acts or practices prohibited by Section 201-3 of the Consumer Protection Law, as defined by Section 201-2(4) of said Law, including, but not limited to, engaging in any other fraudulent or deceptive conduct which creates a likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding, in violation of 73 P.S. §§ 201-3 and 201-2(4)(xxi).

77. The Commonwealth alleges that all of the practices described above were performed willfully.

78. The Commonwealth believes that the public interest is served by seeking before this Court a permanent injunction to restrain the methods, acts and practices described herein, as well as seeking restitution for consumers and civil penalties for violation of the law. The Commonwealth believes that citizens of the Commonwealth are suffering and will continue to suffer harm unless the acts and practices complained of herein are permanently enjoined.

WHEREFORE, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully requests that this Honorable Court issue an Order:

A. Declaring the conduct of Defendants as described herein above to be in violation of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA;

B. Permanently enjoining Defendants and all other persons acting on their behalf, directly or indirectly, from violating the Consumer Protection Law and/or HICPA and any amendments thereto.

D. Authorizing the Commonwealth to direct its Bureau of Consumer Protection to deactivate and/or revoke any active HICPA registration affiliated with any of the Defendants;

E. Directing Defendants to make full restitution, pursuant to Section 201-4.1 of the Consumer Protection Law, to all consumers who have suffered losses as a result of the acts and practices alleged in this complaint and any other acts or practices which violate the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA;

F. Directing Defendants to pay to the Commonwealth civil penalties of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) for each instance of a past or present violation of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA and Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) for each instance of a past or present violation of the Consumer Protection Law and HICPA involving consumers age sixty (60) or older as victims;

G. Requiring Defendants to pay the Commonwealth's costs in this matter, pursuant to 72 P.S. § 1602-U; and

H. Granting such other general, equitable and/or further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
